- Moved on from nimbyism
- Authentic participation and innovative financing offer solutions
- Complexity of engagement and benefit sharing models necessarily changes dependent on the type as well as the scale of wind farm
- Participatory siting and benefit sharing model design
- Appropriateness of staff: personality, skills, availability, presence in local community
- Huge opportunity for strategic regional development
- Essential to find pathways for valuing community engagement; risk mitigation, financial case, everyone else is doing it.
- Important to have a diversity of wind farms going forward to enhance regional economic development.
